An erroneous idea has spread about that the recent election in New York was by machine. The vote was by ballot. There were seven tickets—those of the Republicans, Democrats, Socialists, Prohibitionists, Municipal Ownership League and the Jerome nominations. Had the election been by machine the gross and shameful ballot box stuffing charged by Hearst could not have been accomplished. In New York the ballot box is not so much the expression of the people's will, as an opportunity to thwart that will.

The municipal ownership doctrine has come to stay. The recent election in New York has shown the people are vitally interested in it, and are determined to push it to a successful termination. Already the Municipal Ownership League, which has done such wonders in New York in the election, is proselyting in Rochester, Buffalo and Elmira. From there it is proposed to spread its deciples all over the East and South, and gradually all over the country.

It will not be many years before municipal ownership will be the rule and not the exception in all our great cities.

Municipal ownership of public utilities is preferable to corporate ownership of municipalities.

To Be Deported.

This forenoon the attention of Judge Brown and a jury was occupied in trying the sanity of Pietro Orlandi, charged with a crime against nature, committed at Carlin last August. Orlandi plead not guilty last week and the defendant's counsel, E. A. P. Johnson, raised the question of the defendant's sanity at the time the offense was committed. Judge Brown submitted the case to a jury. Evidence was taken this forenoon and the jury found that the defendant was insane at the time he committed the offense. Orlandi was remanded to the custody of the sheriff and steps will be taken to send him back to Italy under the immigration law—Independent.

Big Business.

The Southern Pacific is doing an immense traffic in live stock out of Winnemucca these days. The shipments for last month ran to nearly 400 cars and if all goes well this month will raise the number. This is one of the important stock shipping points on the line. It would stagger the imagination of the most enthusiastic to know the number of sheep, cattle and horses that go from this State every year.—Silver State.
